Conversations

Conversation 1: Delmene Helas & Midar Aravel

Delmene Helas: Have the accommodations been to your liking, serjo?

Midar Aravel: Yes, the Temple has treated me very well.

Delmene Helas: I'm glad to hear it, and hope that we can continue to count on your support.

Midar Aravel: Do not worry, I am an ardent follower of the Faith, ever since I first visited this holy city many years ago. The Temple cured me of the vices and frivolities of youth, and I can think of no better use for my wealth than to uphold its teachings and services.

Delmene Helas: You are truly an example to all the faithful, serjo.

Single Lines

Single Lines 1: Delmene Helas

Delmene Helas: Start small, and work hard. I'll get there...

Delmene Helas: Hmm, another noble scheduled for next week...

Delmene Helas: Have I forgotten anything?

Single Lines 2: Midar Aravel

Midar Aravel: Even after all these years, the sight of Vivec's Palace still moves my heart.

Midar Aravel: The Temple must be strong. I'll do my part.

Conversations

Conversation 1: Garyne Uvenim & Nevil Malvayn

Garyne Uvenim: What do you think of the new girl, Nevil?

Nevil Malvayn: You mean Delmene? I like her. Diligent, hardworking – she's an asset to the Temple.

Garyne Uvenim: I hope she doesn't become too disillusioned here. She's so strong in the Faith, and it would sadden me if she lost her zeal because of how mercantile this place is.

Nevil Malvayn: [sighs] Not this again, Garyne. We're a large organization, and large organizations need money and resources. I fail to see the evil in our work.

Garyne Uvenim: It's just that, sometimes, I think we care more about material goods than our service to the faithful.

*Conversation 2: Garyne Uvenim & Delmene Helas. Only before Mehra Milo is imprisoned in the Ministry of Truth.

Delmene Helas: Have you noticed anything strange about muthsera Milo?

Garyne Uvenim: No, but I don't see her much. Mehra is very busy, and usually stays in her quarters when not in the library.

Delmene Helas: Well, I see her out in the halls sometimes. Recently, she's hasn't been looking well. Not sick, really, but perhaps tired or stressed.

Garyne Uvenim: Mehra's work can be demanding at times. If there is real trouble, I'm sure she'll let someone know. If you're worried, you should say a prayer for her. Almsivi will always watch over those who serve their will.

*This assumes that Delmene will enter the Canon Quarters at some point (which makes sense, since the beds are there).

Single Lines

Single Lines 1: Nevil Malvayn

Nevil Malvayn: When will they repair those trapdoors? The Underworks smell horrible.

Nevil Malvayn: I wish Adrusu would give this task to someone else. Just because he works all the time doesn't mean I have to.

Single Lines 2: Garyne Uvenim

Garyne Uvenim: [praying] Almsivi, bless us, your servants. Guide our work so that it may serve your purposes and your people, and let not temptation or greed sully our hands.

Garyne Uvenim: Are we losing our way?

Garyne Uvenim: I only want to serve the people... but is this the best way?

Canon Offices

Conversations

*Conversation 1: Adrusu Rothrano & Garyne Uvenim

Garyne Uvenim: Sera, we have a request from the temple in Vos for a small increase in funds.

Adrusu Rothrano: Deny it.

Garyne Uvenim: But sera, their needs have increased. If you'll look at this letter...

Adrusu Rothrano: I said no. If I approve this, then another temple will want more gold, then another, and before long our resources will be exhausted. Vos can wait until we next review expenses, the same as everyone else.

*Conversation 2: Adrusu Rothrano & Nevil Malvayn

Nevil Malvayn: [sarcastically] You're in a great mood, Adrusu.

Adrusu Rothrano: Spare me, Nevil.

Nevil Malvayn: You need to learn to relax, my friend. You're too focused on work.

Adrusu Rothrano: [angrily] I have to keep track of the expenses of a large organization, deal with pointless requests and complaints from every temple on Vvardenfell, and on top of that, the Ordinators keep pestering me about putting more guards in the damn library! I don't have time for anything else!

Nevil Mayvayn: Yep, you definitely need to learn to relax.

*These conversation assume Garyne and Nevil will be in the Canon Offices at some point.

Single Lines 1: Adrusu Rothrano

Adrusu Rothrano: Another one... damn them!

Adrusu Rothrano: I really need a new secretary.

Adrusu Rothrano: Let's see... increase funding for the Ordinators... a bit more to Ghostgate...
